

Wedding photography is not a generic product!

There is a difference in quality and service. While it is tempting to simply call several photographers listed in the phone book and find the cheapest, it might very well be worth your time to evaluate the work of several photographers in person, then make your selection.

In all likelihood, you didn't buy your wedding dress by phone...why buy your wedding photography by phone.

Even if you do not choose our services, do hire a professional photographer for your wedding. While it is very tempting to save money by using a friend or relative, they might find themselves overwhelmed with the fast pace and technical problems that have become second nature to a professional. It's more than just the photographer you are hiring, you're also getting someone who can provide assistance throughout your day.

I have been doing wedding portraiture for over 25 years, and have talked to many brides and friends of brides, I have yet to meet that individual who said, "I wish I had saved money on my photographer, and hired my friend instead."

Please feel free to call to discuss your wedding and whether we can be of service.
